As our leader you will continue our unwavering pursuit of producing students who become responsible and informed citizens, who are able to grow and make positive contributions in our rapidly changing world. Community Description:

Sherman County is located in north central Oregon between the John Day River on the east and the Deschutes River on the west. The Columbia River forms the boundary to the north. Much of the southern boundary is defined by the canyons of Buck Hollow creek, a tributary of the Deschutes. Sherman County enjoys four distinct seasons. Summers are warm, dry and clear. Winters are relatively mild; heavy snowfall can occur, but is uncommon. The county is relatively small, with only 831 square miles, it is approximately 20 miles wide and 42 miles long, elevations range from 185 feet along the Columbia River to 3,600 feet on the plateau in the south. There are 6 small towns: Biggs Junction, Rufus, Wasco, Moro, Grass Valley and Kent within the county line that house approximately 1,732 residents. Sherman County is mainly an agricultural community. Wheat is the most important crop and there are several wind farms. Windsurfing on the Columbia, hunting, fishing and camping are easily accessible. The Jr./Sr. High School enjoys a newly resurfaced state-of-the-art, all-weather track facility, newer baseball field, and newer tennis courts. Also located at the Jr./Sr. High School is a beautiful 7,000 square foot library that opened in March of 2009. Technology is well integrated into the curriculum. Up-to-date mobile Chromebook labs, high speed internet, interactive video conferencing, online classes and video on demand services are all available to support and augment instructional programs.
