Communication to the Community

Issue #10

From Sherman County School District
Moro, Oregon

April 18, 2016

On March 30, 2016 constituents gathered to honor and thank the James Weir Memorial Trust – Biglow District for their generous donation of $500,000 that was used to help construct the James Weir Agricultural Science and Technology Center. The community turnout was outstanding for this ceremony that included a ribbon cutting, and the unveiling of a bronze plaque that marked the important event. The district and the students are so grateful for the facility and we look forward to many years of wonderful educational opportunities for generations to come.

April 14, 2016 may be a day that Susan Mobley's fourth grade class may never forget. The students, dressed in hardhats and safety vests, were taken on a tour of the newly framed elementary wing. Most importantly, the kids had a chance to see the fifth grade classroom that they will be learning in next year. In addition to the tour, the students were given sharpie markers and were allowed to write their names and notes on the framing lumber. Before the field trip ended, the excited group signed a bright orange piece of paper that will be placed in a time capsule that will be sealed in the new elementary wing.
