K-12 Principal Announcement

The Sherman County School District is pleased to announce that Brittany Waggoner has been selected as the new K-12 Principal for Sherman County School, pending Board approval on June 15, 2020.

Mrs. Waggoner was selected after a thorough screening/interview process, which considered feedback from a panel consisting of teachers, support staff, parents and responses from in-depth reference checks.

Mrs. Waggoner has experience as a school principal, school psychologist, and special services director. She started her career as a school psychologist in Prescott, Arizona in 2010. She then served as a school psychologist in the Caldwell, Idaho School District and as a special services director in the Payette School District. The past two years she has been a middle school principal in the Harney County School District in Burns, Oregon. She received a Bachelor of Science in Psychology from the University of Idaho, a Master of Arts in School Psychology from Argosy University and her administrative credentials through Northwest Nazarene University.

It became very clear during the selection process that Mrs. Waggoner is a champion for all students. She leads with high energy, enthusiasm, and passion. Her demonstrated collaborative approach will fit in perfectly with the entire Sherman County School community. When asked about how she felt about the new position, Mrs. Waggoner stated:

"My husband and I could not be more excited to join Sherman County! Both raised in Prairie City, OR, we have longed for a small rural community as we raise our 4 children (Mikyla 13, Paxton 9, Kadence 7 and Grayson 4). We feel very blessed to have this opportunity and look forward to getting to know students, their families and the community!"

Superintendent Wes Owens stated:

"I am thrilled to welcome Mrs. Waggoner to our team. Her commitment to student success, creative understanding of how to support all staff and their work, remarkable energy, and willingness to build on traditions of success were all exemplified throughout the application and interview process."

Mrs. Waggoner grew up in a small rural town in Eastern Oregon and she, her husband and their four children are excited to call Sherman County School home. If you see them in or around Sherman County, please give them a warm welcome.
